

Cyber Liability

What is Cyber Liability?

Many companies keep sensitive information on their customers such as bank account numbers, social security numbers, or credit card numbers. If a hacker can get access to these, he can extort the company or use the data for nefarious reasons. Cyber liability protects you from data breaches, virus, other cyber security threats, and can in some cases cover the errors and omissions insurance in these cases.

Purchasing Cyber Liability

To purchase cyber liability a lengthy application must be filled out. If the application shows security flaws these generally must be repaired before coverage is issued. This process is often looked at as a hassle, but honestly is a great thing. YOU DO NOT want to have a cyber issue regardless of coverage due to the time demands and stress it puts on you and your employees as well as the reputation hit that can occur. The safeguards required lower your cyber threats dramatically. If you are interested in cyber liability coverage give us a call.
